Round 3 Match Review vs Fremantle Dockers – richmondfc.com.au

Treacy calms Tigers storm as wayward Dockers survive scare

Fremantle showed the ruthlessness required to be a contender in 2026 with a powerful second half against Richmond on Saturday, recording a 60-point win at Optus Stadium.

The Dockers were challenged by a spirited young Tigers team in the first half and trailed by six points late in the second quarter, but they dominated proceedings thereafter to win 13.25 (103) to 6.7 (43).

They shifted gears after the main break and returned to the attacking style they have built in 2026, kicking 8.16 in the second half to clear 100 points for the third straight match.

Key forward Josh Treacy booted four goals and took 12 marks in the win, hanging onto every kick that came his way.

The Dockers' midfield was led by Caleb Serong (32 disposals and nine clearances) and Shai Bolton (33 and six inside 50s), while Sean Darcy (29 hitouts and a goal) lifted as the game went on to build touch in the ruck alongside Luke Jackson.

They set the win up in a devastating third quarter that saw them boot five unanswered goals, sharpening their game at the coalface and burning away from the Tigers in a match-winning burst.

Richmond coach Adem Yze flagged the need to take away the Dockers' speed as a priority, and his players got the job done early, holding the inaccurate Dockers to 1.5 in the process after they had booted a combined 15.11 in their two opening quarters to start the season.

Fremantle was forced to control possession more than it had, racking up uncontested marks and then kicking inside 50 to contests, with Jye Amiss kicking the only goal of the quarter after a crafty lead and strong mark.

The Tigers were impressive in the contest, but it wasn't until the second quarter when they started to connect well inside 50, picking out smaller targets as Tim Taranto and Steely Green combined for five goals in a superb run that saw them take the lead close to half time.

Their tackling pressure was important, forcing turnovers and then chaining the ball through the middle of the ground, with Sam Lalor picking out Green late in the quarter with a perfect kick inside 50 to cap an impressive half for the No.1 pick.

The Dockers didn't lie down, however, kicking back-to-back goals in the final 50 seconds of the half through Serong at a forward 50 stoppage and then Treacy to take back at six-point lead at the main break.

It was the start of an eight-goal run, with the Dockers taking total control through the third quarter, winning clearances 13-5 and inside 50s 19-7 and turning an earlier six-point deficit into a 44-point lead at the last change.

Captain Taranto

Midfielder Tim Taranto has said that he would like to captain Richmond one day, and on Saturday the club got an early look at how he would approach the role if he ever took over from ruckman Toby Nankervis permanently. It was a good first showing from Taranto, who was elevated to vice-captain ahead of this season and will fill the top job for the next six to eight weeks as Nankervis recovers from a hamstring injury. The midfielder tackled relentlessly in the midfield through the first half and pushed forward well, finishing with 24 disposals, two goals and 10 tackles. The 28-year-old has embraced a leadership role at the club, and his encouragement and support was on show with young teammates.

VFL Round 2 Match Review vs Coburg Lions – richmondvc.com.au

Lions prevail in Tiger scrap

Coburg started well and ended up powering its way to a 23-point win against Richmond's VFL side on Saturday afternoon.

Richmond fell short in Round 2 of the VFL, outclassed by a hungrier Coburg side on Saturday afternoon.

The Lions came out with a ferocious attack on the contest, starting well through Jaidyn Stephenson as he slotted his first major of the day. The Tigers bounced back though rebounding the ball out of their back half, all the way up the field with Tom Ferguson finding space inside-50 and kicking a goal.

Moments later Joel Trudgeon pounced on a Richmond turnover in defensive-50, giving Coburg back the lead, before Ferguson kicked his second with a classy snap.

Stephenson burst into space and ran into an open goal in the dying stages of the first quarter, giving the Lions a five-point lead at quarter-time.

Things only got better for Coburg with the first two goals of the second term, coming from small forwards Kyle Weightman and Levy Tejones.

After defending repeated inside-50s, Noah Roberts-Thomson broke the shackles, bursting through the stoppage and kicking an important goal for the Tigers just before the half-time break.

Coburg controlled the inside-50 count in the first half and soon had the lead out to three goals after a classy finish from Mitch Podhajski, but the Tigers responded with a goal to Liam Fawcett.

The Lions kicked two goals to one from that point onwards, taking a handy 14-point lead into the last quarter.

Down on the scoreboard, the Tigers pressed early in the last term but Podhajski got the all-important first goal, his third to push the lead out to 19 points. Ryan Valentine kicked his first minutes later, giving Coburg a four-goal lead eight minutes into the last quarter.

Ferguson kept Richmond alive after a deliberate rushed behind decision on the goal line, going back and kicking his third goal of the day.

But approaching time on Stephenson kicked his third of the day and sealed victory for Coburg, up by 23 points with just four minutes left to play. The Tigers fought right until the end but ultimately fell short, going down 12.15 (87) to 9.10 (64).

Youngsters Ferguson and Zane Peucker kicked three each and looked lively in front of the footy throughout the day, while Podhajski was on target for Coburg kicking four goals.
