Mitchell played 81 games and kicked 103 goals for the Tigers from 1987-1991 and was one of the competition's most exciting players during that time.

The guernsey tells the story of Mitchell's family and his 'extended family' being the Claremont and Richmond Football Clubs. The story and colours also tie back to Mitchell's homes of Carnarvon, Shark Bay and Western Australia.

The three circles on the guernsey represent the Club's Mitchell had a significant impact at - Warriors FC, Claremont, and Richmond. Two circles can be found on the front sash, with the other on the back sash.

The red-tailed cockatoo, which is represented on the back of the guernsey, is of great significance to the Mitchell family. The cockatoo represents Mitchell's parents, symbolising their love, guidance and protection.

The dugong and turtle on the front sash represent Mitchell's home, Shark Bay, which is roughly 800km north of Perth. The marine life of dugongs and turtles are prominent features of Shark Bay and as such, are showcased on the guernsey.

The deep colours on the guernsey are also strongly linked to Western Australia, Carnarvon, and Mitchell's playing days.

The reds and blues highlight the desert and the ocean that surrounds the Carnarvon area, and the gold yellow represents the shade that was worn during Mitchell's time at Richmond.

Mitchell's x-factor and capacity to generate sheer excitement was off the charts during the 1990 season, when the silky-skilled, speedy, small forward won both Mark of the Year and Goal of the Year.

Mitchell, renowned for his high-flying exploits, despite being just 173cm tall and weighing only 66kg, took Mark of the Year in the Tigers' 79-point Round 5 victory over Fitzroy on Anzac Day at the MCG.

He propelled himself skywards, balanced on the shoulders of Lions defender Brett Stephens, before juggling the ball in one hand and then completing the mark as he fell to the ground.

In Richmond's final home-and-away round match of 1990 against Sydney at the SCG, Mitchell clinched the Goal of the Year.

After gathering the ball deep in defence, Mitchell decided to take the game on in typically bold, dashing style.

He took a bounce, then another, followed by five more (a grand total of seven), before calmly slotting it through for a breathtaking goal.

In honouring the tradition of Dreamtime at the 'G, Richmond continues to reserve wearing the specially designed guernsey for the first time for the Dreamtime game. In 2011, Richmond became the first club in the AFL to have a specially designed guernsey for the competition's showpiece game. Click here to read more on the history of the Dreamtime guernsey.

This year's 'Dreamtime at the G' clash against Essendon is scheduled for Round 11, on Friday, May 22.

Richmond's AFLW team will also wear the guernsey, with further details to be announced soon.

Proceeds from Dreamtime merchandise will help support Indigenous youth through the Korin Gamadji Program.

Round 9 Match Review vs Adelaide Crows – richmondfc.com.au

Improving Tigers downed by Crows

After heading into the main break 10 points down, Adelaide came out and kicked six unanswered goals to secure a 37-point win over Richmond on Sunday afternoon.

A five-goal third quarter saw the Crows win 14.14 (98) to the Tigers' 9.7 (61) on Mother's Day at the MCG.

The Tigers' spirited youngsters had shocked the more-experienced Crows in the first half, particularly in the second quarter where they outscored last year's minor premiers, kicking four goals to Adelaide's two.

Veteran forward Tom Lynch was influential up forward finishing with a game-high three goals, the premiership Tiger slotting the first of both the first and second quarters.

Lynch was joined by Noah Balta, who hit the scoreboard once in his new role as a ruck/forward, and the Tigers welcomed back vice-captain Tim Taranto who finished with a team-high 28 disposals.

But it's Richmond's young stars who continue to improve week-on-week that keep Tigers' fans full of hope. Patrick Retschko had 22 disposals, whilst Sam Cumming and Tom Burton continue to gain invaluable experience at the top level.

Adem Yze will be pleased that his side refused to give in despite the deficit blowing out to 30-points at the start of the final term. Richmond wrestled back momentum with goals to Lynch, his third, and Cumming bringing the largely Tigers crowd to life.

But two final goals to Josh Rachele and Lachlan McAndrew sealed the win. The Crows finished with 12 individual goal scorers in what was their fifth win for the season.

The Tigers' poor luck with injury continued on Sunday afternoon when young defender Tom Brown left the ground cradling his wrist in the first quarter. Brown grabbed for his forearm following a marking contest and left the ground immediately.

Brown was shortly after ruled out of the game with a left forearm injury.

Campbell's silky skills

It was the goal of the game, but could it be a Coles Goal of the Year contender? Richmond small forward Seth Campbell displayed his smooth skills when he slotted an outstanding goal from a tight angle, 45 metres out on the run. The goal was up the Punt Rd end, much to the delight of the Tigers fans who got out of their seats to join in the celebration.

Richmond's VFL team started the game in scintillating fashion, but Williamstown took control of the contest at DSV Stadium, with the Tigers downed by 37 points.

Liam Fawcett got the Tigers off to a great start, kicking his first goal of the day and looked lively throughout the first quarter. But the Seagulls bounced back after a roost on goal from youngster Hugo Hall-Kahan, keeping the scoreboard close.

Sam Toner got himself on the scoreboard moments later, but Williamstown's Damon Hollow tied the scores in a fast-paced start. After a tussle, Richmond went from end-to-end, finishing in Toner's second goal. Ned Renfree also managed to kick a late one to give the Tigers a 17-point advantage at quarter-time.

The Seagulls started the second quarter with a flurry, as Hollow and Ben Kennedy got the home side back to within a goal.

Seagulls ruckman Alex Mirkov and David Cunningham soon made it four unanswered goals, taking back the lead 11 minutes into the second term. Richmond desperately needed a response, but Williamstown continued to have its way - Kallan Dawson making it five.

The Tigers defended grimly as the ball lived in the Seagulls forward half, with the home side erasing a 17-point deficit, turning it into 15-point lead at the main break.

It was a much better start to the second half for the Tigers, wrestling back the momentum through Toner, kicking his third, before Fawcett and Renfree got Richmond within seven points.

But a late goal to Williamstown and some missed opportunities from the Tigers meant the Seagulls held a 13-point lead heading into the last.

Richmond pressed again, kicking the first of the last as Mohammed Yassine gave his side a big boost, cutting Williamstown's lead to only seven points. Almost immediately, Williamstown fired back though, as Dawson kicked his second goal, giving his side some breathing room.

The Tigers were brave, but conceded heavily late in the game as Williamstown took the victory.

Harry Scott had a strong performance, recording 25 disposals, 10 tackles and six clearances, Toner continued his impressive campaign with three goals, while Joel Garner collected 21 disposals.

Richmond will hope to bounce back and get more consistency in its game next Saturday against the Box Hill Hawks in Round 8.

Gourley appointed AFLW Senior Assistant Coach

– richmondfc.com.au

Richmond has appointed highly touted VFLW senior coach Brett Gourley as the Club's new AFLW senior assistant coach.

Gourley has led North Melbourne to consecutive VFLW premierships while also serving as the Kangaroos' AFLW Head of Player Development in recent years.

The reigning VFLW Team of the Year coach has also led Victoria in their Gather Round clashes with South Australia at senior women's level for the past two years.

Gourley also had a stint at Essendon as an AFLW assistant coach and was a part of North Melbourne's AFLW coaching set up prior to that from 2019-2021.

The experienced Physical Education Teacher has also served as Strathmore Secondary College's Head Coach of Senior Boys' and Girls' Football for 14 years.

Richmond EGM of Women's Football, Jane Woodlands-Thompson, said that it was exciting to bring someone of Gourley's calibre into the program in a full-time capacity.

"Brett has a terrific record both developing talent and helping players perform to the best of their ability," she said.

"His record coaching North Melbourne in the VFLW speaks for itself and he has done great things developing players to be ready to perform at AFLW level as well.

"As a teacher, he has great skills in conveying and applying a message, and he will be a huge asset to our program and implementing what Jarrad is setting out to achieve with our group.

"We are looking forward to Brett getting to work with the rest of our coaches, right away, once we officially commence on May 11."
